How Local Option Effects a City.

The Atlanta, Ga., Constitution, gives the following testimony of the effect on that city after a trial of one year:

"Fifteen new stores containing house-furnishing goods have been started since Prohibition went into effect. These are doing well.

More furniture has been sold to mechanics and laboring men in the last 12 months than in any 12 months in the history of the city.

All improvement companies with a basis in real estate have seen their stock doubled in value since the election on Prohibition. According to the real estate men more laborers and men of limited means are buying lots than ever before.

Rents are more promptly paid than formerly. More houses are rented by the same number of families than heretofore. Workmen who formerly spent a great part of their money for liquor now spend it in food and clothes for their families.

The retail grocery men sell more goods and collect their bills better than ever before.

According to the coal dealers, many people bought coal and stored it away last winter who had never been known to do so before.

Others who had been accustomed to buying two or three tons on time, this last winter bought seven or eight and paid cash for it.

A leading proprietor of a millinery store said that he had sold more hats and bonnets to laboring men for their wives and daughters than before in the history of his business.

Contractors say their men do better work, and on Saturday evenings, when they receive their week's wages, spend the same for flour, hams, drygoods, or other necessary things for their families.

"Imitation is the sincerest flattery," hence all other roofings are made to look like Rubero. Get Rubero and you get the best. La Crosse Lumber Co. sole agents.

We make good mill work.

Base Ball.

In a game replete with errors the Montgomery second team was defeated on the home grounds by the Wellsville team by a score of 7 to 6 last Sunday. As an exposition of how the great American game should not be played it was a huge success, and the one bright spot in the game was a triple play in the second inning by the Montgomery boys.

Decoration Day, May 30th.

The day for this beautiful annual festival is at hand and the Comrades of the G. A. R. urge upon all classes of the people the duty and pleasure of making the occasion an inspiration and an incentive to noble living and better citizenship.

The Memorial sermon this year will be preached on Sunday, May 29 at 11 a. m. by Rev. Kerr, pastor of the Old School Presbyterian church. Pastors and all the ministers of the various churches are cordially invited to be present and assist in the services.

We hope every citizen, old and young, will be present at this impressive service. On Decoration day, May 30th, the usual ceremonies of the G. A. R. Ritual will be rendered at the cemetery at Montgomery City at 2 p. m.

Singing by a chorus followed by an address by Elder Malone. Martial music as heretofore. All who have flowers will please bring them to the G. A. R. Hall at 1 p. m.

All soldiers both of the Gray and Blue are cordially invited to meet at the Hall at 1:30 p. m. and march from the hall to the cemetery. The same invitation on the 28th at church services at 11 a. m. Will meet at Hall at 10 a. m. and march to the church. Come one come all. Let us make this one of the most impressive decoration services we have ever held.

We would urge the children and the young people especially to take an active part in all the exercises, that we may be able to scatter flowers on the silent dead of the Gray and the Blue that their memories may be more firmly impressed upon our minds and hearts that it may do the living good and not the dead. Let all the Sunday School teachers and scholars come out in full force, May 30th and make the occasion glorious and memorable.

By order of the Committee.

Big Receipts of Wool.

Blattner brothers, a Wellsville firm, who have had Alfred Washington buying wool from Callaway farmers at from 24 to 25 cents a pound for the past two months, received about $6,000 pounds of wool at Auxvasse, this week, and have been in this city since Tuesday taking care of the lots that were contracted to be delivered at this place. They received about 50,000 pounds here, and in reality bought about all the Callaway clip this season, unless it was some on the western edge of the county.

The representatives of the Montgomery county firm will be here until Saturday, and as an evidence of the jump the market has made since they bought what wool they are receiving, it might be said that they paid 30 cents a pound for some yesterday, that a Calwood neighborhood farmer was lucky enough to hold, and it is reported that Books brothers, also of Calwood vicinity, sold wool for the same figure.—Fulton Gazette.

THE SNYDER CYCLONE

Over One Hundred Killed and Many Injured. Town of One Thousand Inhabitants Destroyed.

Probably one of the worst tornadoes in the history of the southwest struck the little town of Snyder, Oklahoma Wednesday, May, 10, killing over one hundred people and injuring not less than two hundred.

The business portion of the town suffered less than the residence section, which accounts for the fact that so many were killed, the tornado occurring after business hours.

The havoc wrought by the tornado is complete. Out of a town of 1,000 people not more than a score of houses are intact, while two-thirds of the buildings are totally wrecked. The storm formed south of Olustee, near the Texas line, and took a northeasterly course through a well settled section. At 8 o'clock it was observed by the people of Snyder, but the usual funnel shaped formation was lacking, and though the deep roar was plainly heard for some time before the storm broke, many were of the opinion that it was a hail storm. Within a few minutes the sky became suddenly dark and a terrific downpour of rain began, lasting for several minutes, when it stopped almost as suddenly as it had commenced.

A few moments of ominous calm followed and then the tornado struck, tearing buildings to pieces as though they were made of paper. Many people who had thought to take advantage of the calm to seek refuge in cellars were caught in the streets and between buildings, where some were lifted high in the air and dashed to the ground, while others were struck by flying debris and beaten almost beyond recognition. Those who remained in their houses fared no better, frame structures collapsed like egg shells, burying occupants under the debris, killing crushing and maiming.

In a few moments it was over and the air was filled with shrieks of the injured. Within a short time the news was spread and physicians and nurses were called for and relief trains were made up and hurried to the scene. Organization was perfected among the citizens and appeals sent out to leading cities of the territories asking immediate assistance.

If you really want the best Ice Cream, try the City Drug Store's cream. Best by every test.

On May 4th, Paul Niehuss and Miss Lizzie Boehmer of New Truxton were married in Paduca, Kentucky, by Rev. Kay, Pastor of the first Presbyterian church. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Niehuss and is one of the firm of Niehuss & Son, of the well known Truxton Stock Farm, with character of sterling worth. His bride is an accomplished and refined young lady and enjoys the esteem of many friends. The young couple will go to housekeeping in New Truxton, where the groom has prepared a newly furnished home for his bride.—Warrenton Herald.

Misses Julia Ferguson, Maude Hunter, Lillian Barker, Mayme Hassler; Messrs Mac Barker, Bert Luckie and others attended the revival services in Wellsville Wednesday night.

Prof. C. C. Collett of this city, who superintends the public schools of Montgomery City during the school months, has been employed by Ginn & Co., a textbook publishing house, to travel for them during the summer.—Fulton Gazette.

If you eat candy, go to the City Drug Store and sample the new fresh line just received.

Last Saturday while shooting rats with a 22 rifle, Jim Duffy accidentally shot little Minnie Estes. The ball entered just above the hip and took a downward course, lodging below the knee. Dr. Hudson extracted the ball and the child is doing very nicely now.

Following are the names of the young people who went up to Wellsville Sunday evening to hear Rev. Harris preach: Misses Myrtle Johnson, Fan Stephens, Vee Harley, Alma Muns, Corinne Vogt, Bettie Kline, Mayme Hassler, Ora Marlow, Alice Manis, Grace Gupion; Mrs. James Webb; Messrs Mont Muns, Roy Marlow.

Best St. Louis Dairy Ice Cream at the City Drug Store, 5 and 10 cents. Try it and you will always buy it. Sides too, same price.

The Township S. S. Convention was held in the Methodist church Sunday at 2 o'clock p. m. The County President, Frank Boehmer, of Jonesburg presided at the meeting in the absence of Mrs. Kate Oliver. Will Baterson, County Secretary, assisted in the meeting. Mrs. Kate Oliver was re-elected Township President and R. C. Brown Township Secretary. There were several excellent short talks, and a suggestion that the next meeting be an all day session in order to give more time for the discussion of the various subjects. It was a very pleasant and profitable meeting although there were very few Sunday School representatives.

The ice cream season is now here and for the best ice cream sodas go to J. K. Barley's.

J. K. Rodgers of this city this week handed us a book of the by-laws of the "Montgomery Society" of Kansas City, Mo., of which his son Parker Rodgers is president and Chas. H. Muns, treasurer and Robt. Bratton secretary. This society is composed of former Montgomery county residents, and its purpose is to increase acquaintanceship among those formerly of Montgomery county, Missouri; to help those of its members who may become sick or in distress; to find employment for those unemployed; to study, discuss and learn more of municipal affairs and current events and to collect information and facts that may be of use to its members as an organization.

Have you partaken of some of the St. Louis Dairy Co's elegant Exposition cream at the City Drug Store.
